

MEDIA ADVISORY

WHAT: Youth Activism Training

Eau Claire County high school SADD groups (Students Against Destructive Decisions) will participate in a day long training to learn how they can help reduce and prevent youth substance use in Eau Claire County, and integrate their voices into conversations on all issues of adolescent health. The training will empower youth to be advocates for themselves and their peers, and will teach students the key skills for turning their passions into change-making projects that pave the way for healthier communities.

WHO: The Alliance for Substance Abuse Prevention is hosting the training. Youth and adults from the following Eau Claire county high schools are involved in SADD:

- Altoona High School
- Augusta High School
- Eau Claire Memorial High School
- Eau Claire North High School
- Regis High School
- Fall Creek High School

WHEN: Wednesday, October 18, 2017 8:30am – 2:00 pm
